CSC 232. Software Requirements Analysis and Design. Software engineering requirements including elicitation, analysis, specification, verification and management. Emphasizes IEEE software engineering requirements and standards and the concept of operations (ConOps) document. Techniques include structured analysis, use cases and object-oriented analysis. Prerequisite: Fully classified graduate status in Computer Science or Software Engineering. 3 units.